

Remember 1934
Descendants Project
Interview Questionnaire

Interview topics - here are some topics that would be included in an interview:

We are interested in you!

Who were you descended from? (Name and union affiliation)

How did you first hear about the strike?

Where did the striker live, at the time (1934)?

What was your early life like?

Recollections and stories about the striker: We would like to know some recollections and stories about the striker.

What kind of person was she or he?

What do you know about their role in the strikes?

How were those family stories carried forward?

Photographs or memorabilia: Do you have any photographs or memorabilia from the strikes?

Photo of relative? (Please bring to any Remember 1934 event)

Do you need any assistance to identify, authenticate, scan, share, or re-home such materials?

If seeking help to re-home any of those, are you willing to donate same to the Remember 1934 archives?

Striker's life and activities after 1934: We would like to find out about the striker's life and activities after 1934.

What was their work life after 1934?

Were they active in union activities?

Were they able to gain a better life because of the success of the strikes?

Were they interviewed by government agencies, or by law enforcement soon after the strike, or perhaps during the 1950s?

Labor legacy: We would like to know the labor legacy of the striker.

Were you, or members of your family involved in the labor movement?

What is your story and work life?

(You have been modest with your comments. What do you want to say about you?)

Please let the Remember 1934 Descendants Project know if you are willing to participate in a filmed interview.

If you live in the Twin Cities, we can come to your place. We would like to interview you in your home, or a setting of your choice where you can be comfortable.

Please also note that if you later recall additional stories, or find other photographs and/or memorabilia, we will be happy to arrange a follow-up visit in person, or via Zoom.

Thank you!
